ABOUT US

Apex Garden Products was established in 2026 by two former directors of Apta, James Hoad and Michael Yang. With a combined six decades of knowledge and experience of the pottery industry, including sales in the UK garden centre market and Far East manufacturing, Apex are uniquely placed to provide garden retailers with inspirational products.

Prior to its closure in 2026, Apta was a well-established supplier of high-quality pots and planters to the UK garden centre trade. For decades it carried a reputation for innovation (being first-to-market with many new ideas) backed up by exceptional customer service.

Apex is founded on the same principles: top quality, innovative products, constant new product introductions, and excellent value – all backed with quick deliveries and reliable service. With most products available in convenient half or mini pallets, and a full range of POS display materials and merchandising, Apex are the outdoor pot experts.

As part of our commitment to ongoing new product development, watch out for exciting new introductions mid-season! Full container options are available – ask us for details!
